The following is miscellaneous data on road construction in Albania

25X1A

Description and Comments

Maliq-Berat

Wagon-road, under construction. About 200 kilometers in length. About one battalion of soldiers and a number of "exiled" civilians were working on this project.

Korce-Voskopoje (Moschopolis)

Surfaced with asphalt. Work began in 1947 and was completed shortly before the date of this report.

Kiari (sic) - Borove

Under construction.

Gjergevico-Vithkuq

Under construction.

Berat-Frashori

Has been under construction since 1947; the grading of the road is still going on while other sections of it are being surfaced with gravel. Less than half of it had been completed by the date of this report.

Military road toward Grammos, beginning at the village of Proda and running to within an hour and a half of the Albanian/Creek border.

Allegedly constructed for use by the Creek guerrillas.
